6. To assist students with more thorough comprehension of certain topics, assignments will be given. Students are required to work independently to generate answers. Students should rely on main texts for assignments, but are permitted or required to use other resources as indicated in the instructions. Sometimes the subject matter of classes overlap and an assignment can meet the requirements for more than one class. If this is the case, standards of academic honesty require that you inform your instructors of your intentions and get written approval before pursuing the assignments. All electronic submissions for your sports supplement projects will go through Turnitin. This is a plagiarism check tool and will identify any and all text that has been copied from professional sources (articles, book chapters) and from other student's papers. Plagiarized work will result in a zero on the assignment and will be reported to The Office of Student Conduct.

attendance," to determine whether the student completed more than 60% of the instruction of a course. Individual instructors may, at their discretion, record an "FN" grade (F for non-attendance) in the case of a student who did not complete more than 60% of instruction and did not withdraw from the course. In all of these instances, the percent of instruction achieved is based upon the student's date of last attendance, defined as the "last date of attendance at an academically related activity" associated with the course, based upon federal financial aid guidelines. This date could be later than the last date of physical classroom attendance.

"Academically related activity" is defined at UNLV as any of the following actions, all of which are taken from Title VI federal financial aid guidelines:

- x physically attending a class where there is an opportunity for direct interaction between the instructor and students;
- x submitting an academic assignment;
- x taking an exam, an interactive tutorial, or computer-assisted instruction;
- x attending a study group that is assigned by the academic unit;
- x participating in an online discussion about academic matters; or
- x initiating contact with an instructor to ask a question about an academic topic studied in the course.

Academically related activities do not include activities where a student may be present, but not academically engaged, such as:

- x living in institutional housing;
- x participating in the University's meal plan;
- x logging into an online class without active participation; or
- x participating in academic counseling or advisement.

Note about logging into an online course without active participation, aboWee acceptable standard is that an institution can demonstrate "that a student participated in class or was otherwise engaged in an academically related activity, such as contributing to an online discussion or initiating contact with an instructor to ask a course-related question."

UNLV Support Team / Students in Distress

Instructors may come in contact with students who are in distress. From stress or anxiety to suicidal ideation, the UNLV Support Team works to connect students experiencing distress with the appropriate Campus resources. To make a referral to the UNLV Support Team, please visit the ______, https://www.unlv.edu/campuslife/supportteam. Students will receive access to care and follow-up. For immediate emergency assistance from UNLV Police Services, dial 911 on a UNLV land-line telephone, or 702-895-3669 from a mobile phone.

Instructors and staff play an invaluable role in helping students who are in distress. An expression of interest, concern, and compassion is an important factor for a student seeking assistance. The UNLV Support Team offers presentations to instructors/staff groups and individual classes on identifying signs of distress, approaching students they are worried about, and referring students to support services. The presentation includes information about an online training program aimed at helping participants gain experience in talking to students in distress.

In this course, titled At-Risk for Faculty & Staff, participants also learn effective listening skills. To take the free, online, 45-minute course, please follow the instructions below.
